CLEVELAND'S ELECTION CON-CEDED.

Hope of the County Under Democratic Administration.

All doubts are now dispelled, and the victory is assured; the Republican party having yielded the point. Both parties, democratic and republican, say that the canvass is over, and now it remains but to wait with what patience we may possess the seating of Mr. Cleveland in the Presidential chair, on the 4th of March next. Al the fears which have filled the mind since the 4th of November as to what might be the outcome have died natural death. The vote of the State of New York has been officially counted, although some few of the counties have not yet been certified. Conjectures as to the course of our new President have taken the place of fears and doubts as as to the success of the democratic party. From his anticedents it is pretty well acknowledged that there will be no general upheaving of affairs; but only such changes will be made are an essential to the public well-being-and this is as it should

TELL IT TO THEM.

It will take much time and patience to undo the false teaching of the radical leaders and advisers of such of the deladed colored per p who have been lead to believe that democratic success means driving them back into slave, y again. It is surprising how easily they have been led, how great their gullibility. The greater the lie, the more readily is it swallowed. Common sense alone should have shown them how great the lie, but unfortunately they are devoid of common sense. They would rather hear and believe the g-ossest falsehood against their former owner, and their present greatest and only friends, than the simplest truth. If nothing else comes out of our victory, that of being able now, after twenty years of bard, earnest talking, to show the error they have leen in, enough will have been accomplished. We trust they will be able to see that the men who help them to bury their dead, to build their churches, to buy their shurch organs, and furnish them means to migrate to Mississippi. Alabama and Atkansas, and then give them money to bring them back again, when they only approximately correct. It will be find that "cows far off wear long horns," and that their cabins at bome are more comfortable than those in the far West, and their home bacon and corn bread are far more tooth some than that abroad, are their best and only friends after all.

The News and Courier of Monday publishes statements from nearly all the Democratic County Chairmen in this State in which they give their pinions of the effects of Cleveland's dection upon the industrial life in this State in the near future. We hope their picture is not overdrawn We are likely to overdraw such picones while we are intoxicated with the assurance of triumph. Cur County Chairman Jas. K. P. Goggans, writes as follows :

NewBerry, November 15 .- The people of Newberry bail the election of Cleveland as the harbinger of peace and good will among al! classes of citizens The forerumer of an era of prosperity to all, a new impetus will be given to industries of every description, growing out of the ascarance afforded by this election of t - resteration of an honest, economical and constitutions administration of the Government of the Union. WHAT MR. BLAINE SAYS, AND HOW HE TAKES DEFEAT.

The Journal's Augusta, Mr. correspondent gives an interview bad with Mr. Blaine, as follows :

I asked Mr. Blaine what he thought would be the result of the count in New York, and he replied, that he had no more means of knowing than the unborn child. He had from the first 9 bad no other desire than that a fair count should be made and so far as he was personally concerned, he would be content with either result. Success would not elate and defeat would not depress him, He was engaged in a congenial and profitable work, which had been interrupted by the campaign, and the deep regret that he would feel at a Democratic trinmph would be altogether for his party and country, not for himself. "I lived too near the Presidency in 1881," Mr. Blaine added after a long panse: "and have too keen a sense of its burdens, its embarrassments and its perils to be unduly anxious for
